AutoRISX generates and calculates the exposure of a vehicle, based on the class, current insurance status, driver's age, and outstanding claims, like those of the car, home, or other insured vehicle. The risk of a client can be analyzed based on his vehicle class, age, and the current state of his outstanding insurance claims. AutoRISX is equipped to analyze both single and multi-vehicle claims. AutoRISX Category: AutoRISX has category-specific capabilities allowing it to analyze as many vehicles as needed, while keeping the calculations fast and accurate. All cars, vans, trucks, and motorcycles are fitted with two different categories: • Top: denoting vehicles which are most at risk of having an accident • Average: vehicles which are not necessarily the most at risk, but they are in the population with which AutoRISX is designed to work best. Both categories are treated on a year-round basis. AutoRISX Requires: AutoRISX requires the help of an insurance company or an external broker, for analyzing the exposure of a client. Expect for licensed brokers, AutoRISX can also be used by a potential client to determine the exposure of his vehicle, and he can make a decision of whether to purchase insurance from his selected broker, based on the vehicle class and its current insurance status. In AutoRISX, the broker is also the customer. Competition & Similarities: AutoRISX is the gold standard for analyzing the risk of a vehicle, regardless of its current status with respect to insurance. Not only is it a benchmark, but AutoRISX is also a very versatile tool. AutoRISX can be used to determine the risk of any vehicle and can address other aspects of an insurance policy, like pricing, deductibles, policy limits, multi-policy discounts, and so on. It is a piece of software which anyone can use, thanks to its simple interface and its ease of use. AutoRISX does not replace a broker, but it can assist in evaluating risk. It is an add-on software, so it does not cost extra money. AutoRISX Benefits: AutoRISX is a valuable piece of software. Because it makes the process of insurance more efficient, it cuts the time spent by broker and insurance company. There are no 6a5afdab4c

What's New In AutoRISX?

AutoRISX is an online tool to determine your auto insurance rate. We crawl through the hundreds of pages of a typical auto policy to determine risk. This tool will allow the user to create a free policydata, which can then be used to compare your current rate vs. your competitors'. After your information is collected, the data is fed into our neural network and an insurance score is returned. AutoRISX Reviews: "This is a really useful tool for a client of ours. When faced with customers with little or no evidence of insurance, it is often difficult to find the right insurance policy - one that offers enough insurance but is not too expensive." - Tim Paukner, Managing Director, Connect Communications "We are working with AutoRISX in our quoting and underwriting process. The technology is very robust, quick and it easily handles a number of situations that would be problematic for a human analyst." - Colin O'Donnell, Senior Marketing Manager, FrootX "AutoRISX is an excellent tool for the underwriter to make his or her time more efficient. We have used it to rate a great number of clients and it has always produced excellent results. To be able to view our competitors quotes in one place and easily compare them has been an invaluable resource." - Joe Bower, AutoRISX Customer "We have been using AutoRISX for a few months now. We found that it makes it much easier to understand the different types of risks that our clients face. It's been very quick and easy to use. We can basically get a quote on the whole life of a potential client with just a few clicks." - Jason Aizenberg, AutoRISX Customer AutoRISX Features: Online Free to use *Based on a 10 year Australian home and contents policy with a $1,000,000 premium AutoRISX is available for use by both business and personal policies. AutoRISX works by using a vast training set that contains the information of many, many different cars and drivers. When an individual enters his information into the online tool, his or her profile is compared with that of other people in the same vehicle class. If the information supplied is of
