What's New in the ID Flow Standard?

ID Flow is an award-winning software for creating photo ID cards. The software offers advanced features, a user-friendly interface, and the ability to produce large volumes of IDs at low cost. ID Flow contains over 25 innovative features, and it is also the ideal solution for both small and large companies. ID Flow enables managers to create IDs for their customers, employees and other business contacts. It also saves time and money, allowing you to focus on your core business. ID Flow includes the ability to manage information, including name, ID number, birth date, department and function. With ID Flow, you can use the predefined ID card template or create a new one according to your needs and specifications. You have the ability to capture images on the spot - just select the appropriate capture device. You can also import your design into ID Flow - Designer and create your own custom ID card. ID Flow is capable to manage information, including name, ID number, birth date, department and function. You can use the predefined ID card template or edit it according to your preferences and needs. No matter the kind of group you're dealing with, ID Flow is capable of generating different types of cards including employee ID badges, contractor, university and healthcare. ID Flow offers one of the best representations of a barcode in a regular font, enabling you to add your own barcode with a maximum number of characters. Barcodes can be either horizontal or vertical and can be placed anywhere on the card. As a digital document, barcodes provide evidence of the card data's authenticity and integrity. Barcodes, for example, are used in government and commercial areas and can be used as an added measure of protection for a company's goods and services. ID Flow assigns a specific digital key to each output file, protecting your card design against unauthorized use. You can easily secure your output files by choosing to overlay the image with a watermark. Or, if you would like to obscure the information, use an image transparent to the human eye. Additionally, there is the option of adding a logo to your business contact or ID card. ID Flow also comes with advanced security features, including cost-free printing on HP Indigo and Kodak printing press, enveloping services from FedEx for efficient delivery, special support for Microsoft Word and Excel files and document encryption. ID Flow includes the ability to import payroll information. You can also generate invoices from your ID card information, add mailing labels with the data from your records, and obtain any additional data for printing on the invo
