If you don't know how to answer a particular question, but you are confident that you will be able to find a good example, suggest that they choose one of the previous questions in the course, which asked you to analyze and apply a concept from the book/text. Don't copy answers from your book or from another course! It's not allowed. for example the force-moment-relation, applied to a cylinder:  $\hat{A}$ . The data show that the moment per unit length of a tube of internal radius 2.0 cm and external radius 2.5 cm, has a value.15 millinewtonsmm for wall tension of 2.0 mm, moment of inertia of 0.0491. This is in agreement with the value obtained by using the force moment-relation as given by equation 4-36. Tips: You can write any free-text answer if you're not sure about what to write. Try to write one sentence for each question. Don't write more than 5 sentences in one question, don't write more than 5 question in one answer. Don't use HTML characters (including HTML code).
