PuzzleWorld is an 2D puzzle game which makes you think and get creative. Note: Although the game does not feature achievements, the developer does implement achievements as an optional feature. PuzzleWorld is an 2D puzzle game which makes you think and get creative.You have to connect identical figures (towers) by drawing tiles (arrows). In a line from top to bottom, there are five figures. Tap or slide your finger over the figures to connect them. For you to pass a level, each figure must have an identical figure in the line above, below, left, or right. A 3D figure is one that has a different figure in any of the four directions above or below. There are two types of figures: Solid and hollow. Solid figures are the normal figures, and hollow figures have a missing tile. You can tap a figure and slide your finger across it to swap tiles. If a figure is connected to a 3D figure, the whole figure will disappear. The game is simple and yet challenging. You have to be creative to pass the level and get the highest score. The game features 6 kinds of tile, and 6 kinds of 3D figures. BOMB! Strike in Puzzle Mode. FG Victorian is a game about dueling and historic times. You play two characters, one of which plays a duelist to call in the law against your opponent. One character is suspected to have kidnapped your grandmother, and the other is a detective who would follow up on a reward for the capture of the culprit. A love triangle is involved, and murder takes place. Fictional characters include: A setting was chosen that allows for the earliest appearance of the duel in history. Doyle Pacey, a detective who is recruited by the family of the lost grandmother Van Fife, a famous duelist who becomes a friend of the family Chabon, a cousin of the family with a boyish charm that carries him away from the law Granny, who was the grandmother of both characters Dr. Kevin Bosley, a psychiatrist in the story who seems to exhibit something of an unhealthy interest in Chabon Jill Fletcher, a woman who appears to be working for the police who poses as a friend of the family This map pack contains 10 stories in a series. The first half of the series features a haunted mansion with a mysterious past, and it is the source of the parlor game known to most players as "Feed the Monkey." The second half of the series features adventures in the Lower East Side of New York City, one of the most notorious "skid row" areas of the 1930s. Much of the creative material for the Lower East Side is drawn from the city in the 1930s, and from Joyce's account of his early life in that period. (In the game, Dr. Bosley is a fictional character, though Joyce says that he was a real person in Joyce's life.) This addition to this Fantasy Grounds 3 pack includes the set of 10 stories based around the haunted mansion and Granny and the ten characters that populate the "Haunted House" parlor game. The game has a signature air of mystery and horror, with world class settings and a dashing and dangerous (but honest) detective. It is an entertaining and intellectually stimulating romp through a well-researched setting that is both historically accurate and historically spooky. Features: Over 25 locations (a mansion and ten stories spread throughout a tenement building) Ten character background stories that add depth to the game Player Character and detective backstories Psychologist, historian
