Escape Room Simulator is a game that allows you to escape rooms, a concept that is gaining popularity in the world of gaming. Follow the cast of characters as they make their way through an amazing adventure as they escape from an insane mind that has been playing cruel tricks on them. This mind is a robot but even he has had enough, he will not let these friends loose this easily! Join these characters in their exciting adventure in this comedy thriller Escape Room Simulator game. Escape Room Simulator is currently being developed for PC and will be released in 2019. ~ Liam and Frank

TECHNICAL INFORMATION STATISTICS The Simulator can use any screen resolution, however he is highly optimised for smaller displays, he looks great on tablets or phones, however we recommend using a Windows 10 phone or tablet for the best experience. Supported Operating Systems: Windows MAC LINUX Android We also plan to port to iOS and other mobile platforms once the game is released. Supported Graphics Cards: 2D and 3D We only support DirectX9 graphics as they are the most common. This is why we recommend you use Windows 10 with a recent graphics card for the best experience. You can install the latest graphics drivers at your own risk and please note that we do not support DirectX12 or Vulkan graphics. Supported Video Cards: We recommend you use a Windows 10 device with an i5 or better processor for the best experience, as the simulator runs in several threads and can cause a lot of bugs and lag with previous generation hardware. You can install the latest graphics drivers at your own risk and please note that we do not support DirectX12 or Vulkan graphics. Supported Devices: Surface Pro Surface The emulator runs on a PC with a maxed out i7 or better processor. Windows 10 with an Intel hd 3000 graphics card works best. Tablets and Smartphones The emulator is optimised for small displays, so it will look best on tablets and smartphones with screens larger than 7 inches. The emulator will not run optimally on Android, IOS or Windows mobile phones. The video card needs to support OpenGL 2.0 or higher You can find the right emulator for your device using Google Play or Windows Mobile Marketplace

What's new:

(The Detail Season 2 Episode 5) The Detail returned this week with a relatively light episode. There wasn't a lot of new content that stands out as being particularly compelling other than some dialogue. Instead of a faux-docu-series created drama, The Detail found itself more of a procedural this week that starts with a missing person then quickly branches out into a murder case. THE BUTTON Snyder was down Leo Snyder showed up on the doorstep of his house to find a police car so obviously marked as a crime scene that it literally took his eyes three seconds to realize that this was real. I'm half convinced that at some point the producers and/or actors decided they could make the show difficult for Leo. This was immediately evident when, on arriving to the scene, Snyder knew exactly where to walk because he was on the left side of the street from which we don't normally enter. Perhaps they should have made his wife Megan a police officer because she showed up later on with him. The difference between Leo and the other detectives was blatantly apparent. Snyder was visibly shaken and in shock walking into the house knowing that the body of his wife was within. Luke wasn't shaken or in shock at the sight of the body. Also, it was fairly obvious that Megan's clothes and hair was different from the scene earlier in the season. Obviously, the show isn't going to be able to show her clothes, but her hair should have been combed differently as well as appearing less wrinkled given the time of night. It makes you wonder if Snyder ran back inside and immediately changed his clothes, walked upstairs to check on Megan and then went back to the door to see what had happened. Things started off slowly for the episode as the cameras followed Leo and Megan driving along a tree-lined street in the city as they took a detour to find their teen daughter and son at their house about a half a mile away. A neighbor came out of her house and glanced over the field as they drove by. Megan noted that they were going in the right direction as Snyder tried to ignore his wife whispering quietly about someone being there and the neighbor walking away. The show then took them into a convenience store where the owner noted the time as being around 11 p.m. as Snyder and Megan moved to the counter to buy a drink. The owner nearly joked that even though the store was open late, he CounterShots 1.0 is a very well-developed action game, from which you will get a lot of positive emotions. It is interesting to play CounterShots with friends, fighting for the best points in the game that you can score by killing opponents. For each killed enemy, you will receive his ammunition for your weapon in order to continue the battle, ammunition will lie located in the place of the killed enemy. Also, it is very important to monitor the Health indicator in the game, as there are many opponents, and you will receive medicine quite rarely in a random place on the map. Opponents are not only well drawn, but also have a fairly high-quality intelligence, do not forget about it, two or more can start fighting with you right away, so consider the ammunition! The game has a pleasant landscape on which, with each launch, a random map is formed with obstacles, opponents, first-aid kits and ammunition. Control the movement of your character in the game using the keys "W", "S", "A", "D", to open fire on the enemy, use the space key. CounterShots was created primarily for those who love 2D games, with friends you can have fun playing this game and creating disputes about who will score the best points or who will survive the longest. Enjoy the Game! Online PvP multiplayer with bots for free, 3vs3 team-based battles. Fight for the control of the island. Auto-balancing, bots and friendly players. Developed in collaboration with the community. Check out the AWPL2015 map here: On the AWPL map, the play area is divided into the zone of action and the territory of maintenance. Zone of action In the area of action, you can fight for control of the islands, which is located in the center of the map. The zone of action is large and it is always on the right of the southern side of the island. The zone of action is divided into three parts. In all three parts of the zone of action are located the island's resources (water, wind), the territory of maintenance of enemy players and the island's supply. Territory of maintenance of enemy players The zone of maintenance of enemy players is located in the center of the island. If you are not attacking the island, you must keep your distance of several hundred meters from it
