For example, hiring a server and ordering in food can cost hundreds, if not thousands, of dollars. Accordingly, at parties and events, consumers may spend hundreds, if not thousands, of dollars while consuming food provided by waiters. Additionally, the servers and waiters who provide the food can make a significant amount of money from the work they put in. Consumers who are more affluent can spend tens of thousands of dollars on a single meal at a restaurant. However, consumers who may otherwise be able to afford such meals may be deterred from entertaining when they realize the associated expenses.Evidence that intact TGF-beta receptors are required for gene expression of cytoskeletal elements in response to TGF-beta in cultured vascular smooth muscle cells. The transforming growth factor-beta (TGF-beta) is an important extracellular regulator of developmental processes. The major target for TGF-
