We could be doing things that are more productive. We could be spending our money better. But, if we don't take serious action soon, we could be seeing the demise of a major industry that means so much to our country. Our government is taking on too many new things. Congress is getting jammed up. We are supposed to be the leaders of the world, but we are losing our way. It's time to trim the fat, and cut back some programs. This needs to happen in the short term. We can work on it over the long term. Every time our government tries to do something for the next generation, they have to cut something else. The budget just keeps growing. We can't solve this in the short term, but if we don't take action soon, we will regret it.Q: How to remove the blank values in a string list python?
