Tokens and Dragons to play.
More Dragons to unlock.
New spells to learn.

Product Information

There are 6 different Dragons in the Dragon Kin token pack. As well as dragon eggs you will also get a treasure chest which will contain a random Dragon egg from one of the following dragons: Three Leaf, Slug, Wing, Viper and Scaly Tail. All Turtles in the token pack can also be turned into an alligator. While the initial Turn turtles into alligators doesn't affect any of the characters stats, any alligator you turn into in the future will gain a bonus to both Strength and Agility. The Dragons' data sheet is in a new file type "DRAGON.TXT" that is not seen in FGG with the LOGBLOG format that it is based on. You must have a copy of the FGG Data Files to open this file.

I couldn't find this in the token packs or in the "complete" demo pack list - But almost all of the token packs have at least one token which is Magic Item related. Is this a bug? It's almost like FGG is giving us the tools to play with boss monsters. Wouldn't it be nice to see spells that you need to learn from them instead of monster tokens...?

- Turn 1 Turtle into an alligator (Damage)
- Token Effect: Turn 2 Turtle into an alligator
- Token Effect: Turn 3 Turtle into an alligator
- Token Effect: Turn 4 Turtle into an alligator
- Token Effect: Turn 5 Turtle into an alligator

Tokens

- The Dragon Kin Pack contains 4 unique Wizards
- The Dragon Kin Pack contains 18 unique Mages / Sorcerers
- The Dragon Kin Pack contains 12 unique Clerics
- The Dragon Kin Pack contains 10

DCS: WWII Assets Pack - includes: Albatross Bf 109 and He 111 Thunderbolt II with 10.5 cm Flakvierling 38 KFA341 With the exception of all-new aircraft, this kit contains all the assets you need to recreate the battles that will be fought in the skies over western France during the last months of the war. You can use these already assembled aircraft to represent JG26's aircraft in the clash between the Luftwaffe and the allies. Join them now!About the Author: James "Bonzai" Raine is the leader of Code:R, an enthusiastic member of the small group of programmers and researchers working to create a flight sim that looks, plays and feels like a typical World War II fighter game. In addition to the TTR logistic, airframe, weapons and equipment, he has been tirelessly researching, developing and programming from day one of the project, and is now looking forward to seeing you in the air!About Your in-game Commander: Note: This is an in-game video montage featuring many of the Operation Bodenplatte missions by 7./JG26 and the events leading up to the final days of the Jagdflieger and the Luftwaffe. Do not worry about the quality, it was done in a few hours because I have lots of free time right now. ◀ I can understand your excitement, because it's pretty damn cool, but can you just put some effort into it for once... Click to expand... There IS a lot of effort. I've been doing this since day one. Look at my recent pictures of the Focke Wulfs in the background of the ME, and you can see the effort that goes into each picture. If you wish me to take it to another level, then I would gladly do so. About This Content This campaign requires the following DLC: DCS: Fw 190 A-8 DCS: WWII Assets Pack DCS: The Channel MapDescription August, 1944. You arrive to Merville-Calonne to take over the leadership of 7./JG26 flying Focke Wulf 190A-8s. Most of the pilots are mere teenagers with only a few flying hours, and your job is to turn them into an efficient fighting unit under the ever-increasing pressures of the war. The Western-Allies have gained complete air superiority over the continent, and c9d1549cdd

The world is your playground: crossbreed plants, form bizarre objects, go through the galaxy, defy animals and more. Enter the cosmic rainforest: plant seeds, collect energy from plants and blowpipes, build ice bridges and run through the clouds in a fun and surprising way. Use the plant fertilization engine to your advantage: you can go underground to crossbreed, and have a chance to live outside the limits of the atmosphere. Over 1,000 surprises: from unusual powers given to the plants, incredible organisms, caves, galaxies and more. From simple seeds to giant trees with dazzling properties, you can go through 100 planets and live a full life. The sky is your limits: rocket up the world with your wing ship and collect unlimited energy at the floating clouds. Fly with your ice bridges: plant seeds, crossbreed plants, build ice bridges, and defy wild beasts. Different game modes, from discovery to survival and from hardcore to saucy, you'll always find the game mode that suits you. Join in a crazy galactic party: meet other players in other galaxies and exchange seeds. Join their parties to form alliances and take over other galaxies. You can even follow your friends and synchronize their moves. Form a community in the forest : sometimes you have to share your world with other players. Soon, they can evolve their own tree on your world. We'll see what they look like, let's hope it's wonderful. No more boring single-player mode: join a random party with random players from other galaxies. Your world will become a colorful party. Intrigue, speed, outrageous, extreme, silly, demented and crazy: you'll always find the game mode that suits you. Play online and join a galactic party in a crazy story. Build the best score and win prestige, become famous in your neighbors, and search for the best seed speed to go on an egg-beating run. You will live a full life: from days to years, from weeks to decades, you'll always find a game mode that suits you. The space is yours: build and perform cool feats like making you world spin at incredible speeds, creating static stars, making mountains leap into the air and create rainforests, or defy gravity with your ice bridges. You will share your world with other players: sometimes you will have to share your world with other players. It's fun, it's crazy. The sky is your limit: be the most outrageous and the coolest!
