Toplitz is a city, built from the top of a hill, far, far away in the west. Its citizens drive around in a wacky futuristic city, gazing at the sky, through holes in a nearby wall. It's a small, peaceful city, home to thousands, perhaps millions of ponies. And it's a city in trouble. The citizens of Toplitz have some very unusual ideas about what might be the right things to do. Some are beginning to take it upon themselves to change the way their city is run. Some think they're heroes, and want to change the world. But a group of gremlins is plotting to take over Toplitz - for their own weird, selfish ends. And the city's inhabitants have to work together to stop them. The gist of the game is, you control a small group of characters trying to influence events, and solve a number of puzzles. Music is provided by The Voices, and will be updated as we develop the game. So, if you want to play an early version that has no music, make sure you grab our demo (included in the full download version). We hope that you enjoy playing this little game of ours. We love playing games on the Mac. And it's extremely flattering when people pick up on them. Toplitz is our first serious attempt to make a game for the Mac. (We also have a number of smaller Mac games that we're working on.) We hope you'll give this game a go, and if you do, please consider sharing your thoughts with us. We're interested in what you think, and what you have to say. We're putting a lot of effort into this game, and we'd love to hear what you think. IMPORTANT NOTE: This is a freeware game, meant for both Mac and Windows. FEATURES Create a player's name in the game (to be used in game log messages - e.g. "I am Hamlet.") Play through an exciting story full of puzzles and comedy. Very atmospheric original soundtrack. Lots of quests to complete. Choose your own skill set (attack, goggle, weapon etc.) Character interaction - over 10,000 lines of dialogue (of which just over 2000 have been written). Puzzles with multiple solutions. We are as responsible as we'd like to think our colonies will be, and more than that, we do expect that our colonies will give rise to new lines of development, and open-ended challenges for other citizens as well.But as of right now, we are ready to participate, as equals, with other citizens – including our most skilled governments – in the formation and solving of a multitude of challenges as we all ride the winds of change, together, in our future. The world needs us all to cooperate, and be united, as a colony. However, nothing is simple in this world! It's always changing, always moving… and it's just as complicated in the colonies as it is in the metropolitan areas! So, we hope that by setting up a community game, where everyone can participate, and contribute, we can help raise the quality of life for all citizens! About City Patrol: Police: For all your Copcraft needs… For the time when civilization is struggling… And for the future… At the time when your technology is challenged, new ideas and potential are swirling around you. This game aims to be a flagship, a realistic simulation of the future, and in the face of this unpredictability, you, the city manager, need a way to deal with the ever-rising population and quality of life issues facing your colony. Your colonist will never forget the time when they spent hours in artificial gravity to reduce space sickness, while climbing to the top of a beautiful tower, to see that far-away new part of the city, and dreamed of a bright future. Now, your city is at the peak of success, and you have to figure out how to make this even better! In this game you will take over the role of the manager of one of these cities. As the city manager you have to lead this large group of citizens by making sure they have all they need to keep their lives optimized and their quality of life at its peak. And besides that: you need to ensure your people survive, and prosper, and don't become extinct. Your colony is about to experience a series of events, and you need to give it the tools it will need to survive… and keep the lights on! The city will be growing by leaps and bounds, which means you'll have to make sure your city is equipped to d41b202975

Since the weekend, Stokes has been anxiously awaiting the normalcy of routine operations at the sheriff's office, and he says he is "human again," in that sense. The deputy now assigned to the jail has to go in at night and check on detainees who have been locked inside for more than a day. Like everyone else in the department, he must find the word "stressful" an understatement of the year. "No matter how much you think it shouldn't feel this way, it does," Stokes said. Like all deputy units in the city, police SWAT and K-9 teams and patrol units are not allowed to close their eyes at night. "It's being there that helps you in this job," he said.
