But as the pregnancy continues, the story keeps evolving and now the whole world is watching. A year ago, no one cared if you were drunk, like a lot of people you knew. But you could be way too drunk and still drive and as a result that's all changed. Many states have now adopted impaired driving laws – laws that make a drunk-driving conviction a serious offense. With the fireworks display going on all week, it's easy to forget about the most important holiday of the year: Christmas. Even though the first week of December has been a bit hectic, it's still possible to make your holiday stress-free. We have some helpful tips on how to make the season as peaceful as possible. If you're wondering what's happening to the stars of the Twilight films – you might as well ask Santa. The cast of the movie series is actually coming to Louisville this weekend. Some of them are doing a signing at the Walmart on North 2nd Street. While most students head home for the holiday, kids at Deni Schools have a schedule filled with holiday festivities. Holiday make-and-takes will be at the Deni Elementary School on Sunday afternoon, Dec. 21. Children in grades K-5 will be making macaroni ornament ornaments, and those in grades 6-8 will be making Christmas tree ornament ornaments.
