Garden Rescue is a turn-based 2D strategy game where all battles are based on real life plants. A simple yet challenging game in the strategy genre. The game is played through chapters and you have to build up the list of your plants by training them on a daily basis. The plant hall is the game's core and from there, you can't think of anything else. You can select one or more plants, plant them on the plant hall, buy additional plants with your coins or harvest seeds to expand the plant hall. Garden Rescue is a game in the strategy genre where you lead a group of plants to victory over the enemy plants, destroy their strongholds, attack their protein furnaces or even take control over their residences. An Army Of Plants! Each plant in the game has its own combat techniques and abilities. Plan your moves with care and use all available techniques to aid your plants in battle. Use the combos to pin your enemy down or give your plant a devastating blow. The trade-off is that you may lose some of your health and time to collect the coins that replenish your health. Train your plants, equip them with weapons and use them on your battles with plants. Buy new plants to expand the plant hall, train your plants or speed up production of craftable plants. Choose Your Strategy Using one plant to finish the enemy off is often simple and effective. But what if you use several plants in one attack?

Do you prefer to plant an all-purpose plant with various offensive or defensive abilities, or do you prefer planting a faster but weaker plant and use it only for the speedup?

Become The Foe's Nightmare! You need to be good in specialties to attack the same plant successfully. So save your specializations and use them to your advantage. Hurry up and destroy your opponents before they are able to destroy you. Ready Yourself For The Battle Practice your plants in the laboratory. You should be able to identify a good plant for a specific job. Plant it in the laboratory and test it in battle. The laboratory is a place where you select a specific plant and test it. You can plant two plants at a time and test them as a pair. And you can always carry the research results back to the laboratory and plant a plant from the research result. It is advisable to include defensive or supportive abilities in your plant lineup. Do not underestimate the enemy! Experience is the best teacher.

Pandemic is a tabletop strategy game for 4-6 players. In Pandemic, you play one of 4 characters (scientists, health care workers, soldiers, etc.) who must work together to perform many different actions to save the human race from a deadly virus. If you complete your objectives you will avoid disaster and earn victory points. You use victory points to gain levels and level up to do new things in the game. The game is played on a board, with 7 sections of a 6" x 6" playing surface per side. In each game board, you will place 1-6 Health Points to each player, depending on how many cards they're getting. Each character will have it's own unique set of cards. Each game board represents a different area of the world, so cards placed on the board represent actions that must be taken to mitigate the spread of the virus. If you complete your objectives you will avoid disaster and earn victory points. You use victory points to gain levels and level up to do new things in the game.

Characters get new abilities at higher levels to help overcome each new obstacle. Higher level characters may also place more cards on the board and/or reach some of the global objectives that will help you earn more victory points and level up. You may play Pandemic anywhere, but you will need to play with small groups and be prepared to take action quickly. If you become too bogged down with the game, it is likely that your best path to victory is to resort to brute force. Pandemic can be played by a single person or with 4-6 players. The game has enough depth to be playable in any number of players. The playtime of Pandemic is roughly 2 hours. Key Features:

- Simple rules: Pandemic is a tabletop game, so you don't need any special equipment to play it. However, we recommend using a pencil and small notebook to keep track of cards and scores.
- Fast Play: Pandemic is fast-paced, with a lot of action in the first few rounds. You can simply hand out cards to each player and expect the game to be over quickly. A typical game will be completed in about 30 minutes, but you can play at any speed you choose, depending on how fast you can react to an unfolding crisis.

Power companies should only be given the power to disconnect communities from the National Energy Market after residents have the capacity to cope with severe bushfire weather events, the Age of First Utility says. EnergyFix chief executive Matthew Warren has been a critic of the Andrews government's plan to allow energy companies to disconnect customers from NSW's electricity grid during severe weather events, warning that it will have 'probably disastrous consequences' for the wider community. The Andrews government has committed to give energy companies the right to disconnect large numbers of households as well as schools, hospitals and government agencies from the network if severe weather conditions are expected in the next 24 hours. Mr Warren said the Touhou Project is the brand name for the legendary visual novel series written and produced by Team Shanghai Alice. This game is a free-to-play port of an earlier title called Doll Draft. The objective of the game is to guide Alice through the world of Gensokyo while managing a roster of dolls, and solving puzzles to escape from the Gensokyo labyrinth. It's unknown what happens when the spell Alice casts is removed. ■ With this game, you will gain Alice's panties if you achieve a "Perfect Match". ■ You can use select dolls to gather fragments of the items scattered throughout Gensokyo. ■ Dolls can be upgraded at the Anime Shop. ■ To find out more about the anime series, please visit the official website of Team Shanghai Alice: or go to the Official Facebook of Team Shanghai Alice: ■ Doll Draft— Free-to-play The object of Doll Draft is to guide Alice through the labyrinth and get her out alive, without removing the spell that holds her in Gensokyo. However, nothing in Gensokyo is as it seems, including Alice. There are three labyrinths where Alice must complete various tasks: ■ Cordelia Labyrinth A labyrinth in the secret base that all the characters except Alice are working out of. The entire Labyrinth is based on the plot of a Shakespeare tragedy. ■ Gensokyo Labyrinth A labyrinth based on the real-life town of Gensokyo, a secluded town hidden away in the mountains. ■ Ishtar Labyrinth The ultimate labyrinth where the events of the Gensokyo anime series have taken place. ▼References Touhou Project official website: Touhou Project official blog:
