Featuring both familiar and innovative new ways to expand your empire, Age of Empires IV: Anniversary Edition brings an evolved real-time strategy game to the next level with a host of free new content and features including brand-new civilizations, new maps, additional in-game updates and languages, and new masteries, challenges, taunts and cheats all at an amazing value that packs in more history than ever before! You might think I'm exaggerating, but here's the reality for Age of Empires. It's the most-played single-player game on Steam right now. The data comes from in-app analytics and various community sites. At the end of November alone, according to Steamspy.com, there were over 39.6 million people playing the Age Of Empires franchise - 2.3 million more than the next most played game on Steam at the same time. That includes both desktop and mobile versions. Real-time strategy is a sizeable enough market to make even Microsoft acknowledge the fact. Last year's Bifrost (Age of Empires: The Rise of Rome, if you recall), developed by the folks at Beamdog, found its way on to the Xbox One as a free update. Microsoft can't deny the genre's appeal. *Content has been truncated.
