

rapelay has been translated into english by zeroadmin, and later printed in playhome by pariyara. the game was originally designed to be under 25 minutes long, but work took longer than expected so illusion released a "greatest hits" version of the game. it has 8 endings for you to try aswell as many un-named characters, and there are 50 dungeon maps (also known as dungeons) which have 8 different characters in each of them. the version that has been ported by rpg maker has room for 8 players to play the game together if they have downloadable content included. a whole bunch of data has been added to the file which includes art, names, lyrics, credits, etc. also if the user does not like the japanese voices, they can change the voices by changing the.cbd file which is a small text file that is contained in the main game file as well as in the.rar archive. the.cbd file is found in the directory.\stage3d\amedir, which is the game directory in the archive. first try at iliff:s release. "rapelay" is a classic 3d eroge visual novel which supports characters of all types of bodies, genders, and sexual preferences, with the gameplay being in a medieval setting. it is somewhat similar in style and content to games such as "miss beelzebub" and "the marriage." rapelay is a 3d eroge adventure visual novel game that consists of over 60 areas. it has been made for windows and mac os x, as well as mac os 9. the latter is only allowed on computers before snow leopard (10.6). in line with the game's theme of perversion, rapelay's female characters will sometimes indulge in lewd acts when you run over them with your car. rapelay's gameplay revolves around rape, murder, and torture of various women. there are over 60 dungeons in the game, with 8 being unlocked by playing the game through each of the dungeons twice (save file). rapelay was made in a three-dimensional cgi animation modeler. as it is known, it is easy to produce sex games. this may be because sex games are usually known for their minimalistic content and design. most games for this genre are "puppy" games (where there is no plot or a story-line), it is just a matter of two people "doing it." the reason why games like rapelay are made is because they are often used for the purpose of adult-enhancement and/or for the purpose of demonstration.
