Three cases of Klebsiella pneumoniae infection with extended-spectrum beta-lactamase (ESBL) production are described. The isolates were obtained from blood cultures of patients aged 16, 10 and 3 months, respectively, who presented with respiratory illness, meningitis, urinary tract infection and pneumonia. The isolates were sensitive to amoxicillin and amoxicillin-clavulanate and resistant to most beta-lactams, cephalosporins and fluoroquinolones. Two isolates were ESBL-producing and one was Cephalosporinase-positive. One isolate was also positive for carbapenemase activity. The isolates were susceptible to the carbapenem imipenem. Biosynthesis of ATP by brain mitochondria. A comparative study. A system of mitochondrial membrane preparations from rat brain cortex was used to study in vitro the rate of mitochondrial ATP synthesis. No significant differences were found in the rate of ATP synthesis by mouse brain mitochondria and rat brain cortex mitochondria. The amino acids, L-arginine, L-cysteine, L-glutamic acid, L-glut
